This webcast is the fifth in a series of briefings to assist long-term care planning grantees and others interested in expanding managed long-term care in Wisconsin. This program is intended for senior managers who are planning for new organizational structures and processes. The format will include a 50-60 minute presentation followed by 30-40 minutes for questions from the audience. This webcast will be interpreted for deaf and hard of hearing people.

An extensive provider network is a critical component of managed care. Family Care and Wisconsin Partnership Program managed care organizations are required by Federal and State regulations to ensure that their provider networks include sufficient numbers and types of providers to meet the needs and preferences of their members.

This briefing will describe the role of provider network development in Medicaid managed health and long-term care and how this differs from fee-for-service long-term care. The speakers will also highlight lessons learned from operating the current managed long-term care programs, Family Care and the Wisconsin Partnership Program.
